BOYDTON, VA., July 16, 1878. Editors Dispatch: As you are aware, some of our good people have gotten up a very pretty little farce which they are playing for their own amusement, as well as for the instruction and edification of Secretary Sherman and other foolish financiers of the country. The second act was performed on yesterday, after a month's notice, to an audience of some twenty persons, there being about the same number of actors. It was considered equally as good as the first, although it was a matter of regret to the ditchers that they determined not to dig the big canal. They, however, re-resolved to issue enough money to give us all a pocketful, and we are now happy in anticipation of its speedy coming. When it gets here we will pay off the State debt and stop adjusting. Conflict of Jurisdiction Between State and Federal Authorities in South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, July 18 .- For some time east there has been a serious conflict of jurisdiction between the Federal Government and the State authorities of south Carolina relative to violations of the internal-revenue laws concerning the Illicit distillation of whiskey. The revenue officers of the Government have, in the pursuit of their duty. as claimed, been arrested by the State officers on charges of violations of the State laws, and a number of them are now held in custody. Motions to transfer the cases ville from becoming as yet an actual sub- to the Federal courts have been made. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has been advised that Judge Kershaw, of South Carolina, has in an elaborate opinion denied prevails in South Carolina in reference to these cases, as it is contended that the an address at a Sunday-School Association United States officers display partisanship rather than a desire to enforce impartially the laws.

The ex-United States district attorney for South Carolina has written a letter to the President, suggesting that the prosecutions be stopped, which appears to give color to this view of the situation. The Government does not appear to be disposed to pursue a conservative course in the matter. To-day the Attorney-General and the Comcal, has announced himself a candidate for missioner of Internal Bevenue held a long consultation on the subject, and the result was that it was determined practically to take issue at once with Judge Kershaw's decision. Under section 642 of the Revised Statutes instructions will be issued to the United States district attorney and marshal for South Carolina to take the necessary steps to recover possession of certain revon horseback and in vehicles.
